

TREVOSE ACCIDENT MAY PROVE FATAL TO PHILADELPHIAN

Raymond Gallagher, 31, Injured in Head-On Collision

NEAR BLUE SPRUCE INN

Fracture of Skull, Fracture of Knees, Broken Leg and Ribs

TREVOSE, June 4.—(INS)—Raymond Gallagher, 31, Philadelphia, was injured, perhaps fatally, today, when the automobile he was driving crashed head-on into a heavily laden truck on the Lincoln Highway near here.

Gallagher was driving toward Philadelphia, according to police and swerved out to pass a truck and trailer when he crashed into the truck driven by A. Kruzinski, of Philadelphia, coming from the opposite direction. Kruzinski was not injured and continued on his way after being questioned by Patrolman Coughlin of the Langhorne barracks, who removed Gallagher to the Frankford Hospital.

Physicians at the hospital declared Gallagher suffered a fracture of the skull, two fractured knees, a broken leg, broken ribs and internal injuries. His automobile was demolished by the impact.

The accident occurred near the Blue Spruce Inn where Edward Gault, proprietor, was shot to death during a hold-up last February. William C. Snipes, alias Pal Brandon, of Philadelphia, is awaiting death in the electric chair for the murder.

WILL OF SLAIN AUTHOR IGNORES RELATIVES; MURDER SCOUTED

NEW HOPE, June 4.—The will of Dr. Raley Husted Bell, 62-year-old physician and naturalist, who was found shot to death in his summer home, Sycamore Lodge, in the artists' colony at Centre Bridge, Bucks County, on Monday, was probated at Doylestown yesterday. His home, which is valued at about $35,000, and his personal effects worth about $1,500, were bequeathed to Dr. C. L. Milloux, a consulting engineer of New York City, and his wife, with whom Dr. Bell made his home for about 30 years.

Although the physician's brother, Frederick J. Bell, 50 years old, a New York police captain, and two sisters were ignored in the will, it was said last night that it would not be contested. Frederick Bell declared yesterday that he had not seen his brother for more than ten years.

New developments in the case caused a postponement of funeral arrangements. The body was scheduled to be cremated yesterday morning, but Dr. John J. Sweeney, Bucks County coroner, held up the funeral at the request of Frederick Bell.

Samuel Roth, of 96 Fifth avenue, New York, who had been Dr. Bell's publisher for 14 years and who a short time ago put out his last book, "Memoirs and Mistresses," telephoned to Dr. Sweeney and hinted at foul play in the physician's death.

"Dr. Bell appeared very excited when he visited me last Friday morning," said Roth. "He said he was wor-

VATICAN-GOVERNMENT BREAK IS NOW FEARED

Retaliation for The Arrest of Society Youth Almost Certainty

RUMORS ARE RIFE

By Guglielmo Emanuel
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

ROME, June 4.—Reprisal by the Vatican in the form of a sharp and clean-cut diplomatic break with the Italian Government was feared here today as the result of the Quirinal's attitude in the Catholic-Fascist controversy.

Retaliation for the arrest of prominent members of the Catholic Youth Society by Pope Pius XI, appeared a virtual certainty, in view of his sharp condemnation of Fascist activities against Catholic organizations.

Although the breach broadened to what amounted to an actual break with the arrest of Signor Borsanigo, honorary president of the Catholic Youth Society, and others, no announcement of the discontinuance of peace overtures was made. His Holiness, however, was believed to be considering such action today.

Having suffered during the past two weeks by attacks on its clergy and institutions through personal violence, the church suffered two additional damaging blows from the Government yesterday.

Despite the persistent denials by the Vatican that the recently dissolved Azione Cattolica, a lay organization, was not in any way involved in politics, the directorate of the Fascist party, meeting in special session under the chairmanship of Premier Mussolini, refused to reconsider the decree of dissolution.

"The Government has no intention to tolerate the political activities of the Azione Cattolica," it announced in an official communique.

ONLY FIFTY HOURS REMAIN TO WIN OR LOSE YOUR PRIZE

Candidates in Bristol Courier's Big Gift Campaign Working With Determination as Close of Drive Looms in Sight
— End is Near and Enthusiasm Very Keen

All candidates must compare their vote totals with the records of the Bristol Courier and no corrections will be made after Friday, June 5.

Ten weeks of enthusiastic work and hustling on the part of the candidates in The Courier's big campaign will culminate in the final scene Saturday night, June 6, at 8 p. m. The list of prizes includes four capital prizes of $1,500, $1,000, $500 and $300, and three cash prizes of $200 and three cash prizes of $100. Never before in the history of this section of Pennsylvania has there been such a distribution of costly awards, and never before has there been such an exciting battle waged to win them.

In order to maintain the strictest secrecy as to the number of subscriptions turned in by each individual candidate during this, the last week of the campaign the race is being brought to a close under a sealed ballot box.

No subscriptions whatever are being accepted through the campaign department this week, but instead candidates are depositing their final collections in the sealed ballot box—located at the Bristol Trust Company, of Bristol. By so doing no one, not even the campaign manager can possibly know the voting strength of the respective candidates which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.

Locked and sealed the ballot box now reposes in the lobby of the Bristol Trust Company where it will remain until the closing hour of the campaign—8 p. m.

When the final hour arrives the campaign will be declared closed. The judges will then break the seals, unlock the box and immediately thereafter, or as soon as the votes can be issued on the subscriptions contained therein, the last count will begin.

ASKS DIVORCE FROM WIFE WHO SHOT HIM

W. Clarence Griest, Trevose, Brings Action Against His Wife

CHARGES ARE CRUELTY

DOYLESTOWN, June 4.—On the ground of cruel and barbarous treatment, W. Clarence Griest, of Trevose Heights, filed a libel for divorce against his wife, Helen, in the Court of Common Pleas here.

Mrs. Griest, thirty-eight, who pleaded guilty to the charge of shooting her husband in their home on December 30, 1930, was sentenced to undergo a prison sentence in the Bucks County Prison, but after reconsideration by the Court was transferred to the Industrial Home for Women at Muncie, where she is now an inmate.

The Griests were married on July 14, 1915, in Philadelphia. Immediately after their marriage they resided at 2926 North Twenty-fourth street, Philadelphia, until about five years ago, when they moved to Trevose Heights, where the shooting took place.

Sea Diver Former Bristol Man, Writes for "Liberty"

"Deep Stuff" an article appearing in the June 6th issue of "Liberty," and written by Frank Crilley, is attracting attention of many in this vicinity who are acquainted with the deep-sea diver, and others who had the privilege of hearing the seaman speak at the Fathers' Association February meeting here.

Crilley, who holds several medals for his exploits, including a medal of honor bestowed by President Coolidge for "extraordinary heroism" in rescuing a fellow-diver tangled in a hawser of the sunken submarine P-2 in 1915, tells something of his life and work in these tales "from the floor of the sea."

This diver will accompany Sir Hubert Wilkins on the 3,000-mile under-ice journey to the North Pole in the submarine Nautilus. When he came to Bristol Crilley was accompanied by Ray Myers, who will act as chief electrician on the trip. Many men from Bristol and surrounding territory gathered in the high school building in February to hear the splendid account of the man's adventures. At that time he told of the time he resided in Bristol, and recalled to mind things as they were during his boyhood here.

PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER GLIMPSED AT CONFERENCE

Three Men Stand Out at The Annual Meeting of Governors

PINCHOT GROUP ACTIVE

By George R. Holmes
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

FRENCH LICK SPRINGS, Ind., June 4.—The annual conference of state governors, which broke up today, served to put the Presidential candidacies of three men in bold relief against the 1932 political picture.

For the Democratic nomination next year, both Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, and Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, made politically important contacts with their fellow governors, who are likely to be influential figures in their respective state delegations, and both governors as well furnished further insight into their developing campaign.

On the Republican side, Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, left little doubt that he is to be considered a rival for the nomination which most politicians, irrespective of party, believe President Hoover cannot be denied. Nevertheless and with his usual disdain of odds, the Pennsylvanian threw his hat into the ring on the power issue, and there it is likely to remain until further developments. Gov. Pinchot's friends are already active in quest of anti-Hoover delegates to the Convention next year in a dozen states.

Attended the conference about half were Democratic. During the three days, both Gov. Roosevelt and Gov. Ritchie found opportunity to confer with them privately. The results of these conferences, if any, will not become apparent for many months probably, but they are nevertheless important and significant at this stage of the game.

A poll of the Republican governors, taken by the International News Service correspondent, developed that all thought President Hoover would have little difficulty about renomination. "If he wants it," several of them added.

A similar poll of the Democratic governors revealed a variety of opinion, although the consensus was that Gov. Roosevelt is at this time, twelve months in advance of the convention, heading the race. A few thought he "is the probable nominee," but the majority was inclined to regard the race as "very open" and for the few who believed Roosevelt was the likely nominee there were an off-setting few who disagreed entirely and thought he would not be the nominee.

None of the governors wanted to express their opinion for attributed publication. Hence they are given anonymously.

An illuminating development of the conference was that both Gov. Roosevelt and Gov. Ritchie made it clear they consider economic issues will overshadow all else in the 1932 campaign.

CHILD, 5, DIES OF STRANGULATION; FALLS OFF SWING

Brock Milton Shoemaker Is Found Dead by His Mother

ROPE AROUND HIS NECK

Supposition is That Lad Fell and Became Entangled In the Rope

TULLYTOWN, June 4.—The five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shoemaker was accidentally strangled to death early last evening while playing upon a swing on the lawn of his parents' home here.

The little fellow, Brock Milton Shoemaker, was found by his mother in a lifeless posture with the rope around his neck.

Brock and his younger brother, Stanley, 4, were both playing about the Shoemaker home during the afternoon. Mrs. Shoemaker had looked after the youngsters a number of times and found them playing on different parts of the lawn. In the morning she had erected the rope swing for the children's amusement.

It was about 6 o'clock last evening when the children were called to dinner. Brock did not answer the summons and his mother went in search of him.

Approaching the little fellow the mother, thinking he was just hanging onto the rope, called: "Brock, that is not the way to swing." She then made the gruesome discovery.

Panic-stricken, Mrs. Shoemaker called frantically for her husband, who came running from the house. The child was rushed to the office of Dr. William C. LeCompte at Bristol and from there to the Wagner hospital. Physicians say life had been extinct several minutes.

Deputy Coroner W. Furman Young, of Bristol, was called, and issued a certificate of accidental strangulation.

It is presumed the child slipped, and falling, became entangled in the rope.

Endeavor to Connect Knapp With Philadelphia Murder

NEW YORK, June 4.—(INS)—Efforts to connect Philip Knox Knapp, the "thrill" murderer of Hamstead, with the murder in 1918 of Hugh McLoon, former mascot of the Philadelphia Athletics, were made by Philadelphia authorities today. A representative of the Philadelphia District Attorney's office is expected to arrive in Minneapolis, Long Island, where Knapp is imprisoned.

Philadelphia authorities claim that Knapp, posing as a Federal narcotic agent, informed the city magistrate that he was in McLoon's cafe in Philadelphia on the night the ex-mascot was shot down by three men and that he, Knapp, could identify the killer.

It is understood a check-up of Knapp's record in the Coast Guard Service under the name of "Philip" was to be made to ascertain whether he had had leave of absence and may have been in Philadelphia at the time of the McLoon murder.

Knapp is to be examined to forestall an expected insanity defense in connection with the murder of Louis Panella, Long Island taxi driver, to which he has confessed.

District Attorney A. M. Edwards, of Nassau County explained that Knapp, in his confession, spoke of having suffered a fractured skull several years ago.

LAWS BY REFERENDUM

The Illinois Supreme Court has just found the state legislature guilty of "passing the buck." The appellate court's decision, invalidating the law enacted by referendum last November making women eligible for jury service, is based on the proposition that the legislature had no authority to delegate such law-making powers to the people.

This ruling is of interest in virtually all of the 48 states, in view of the growing tendency of state legislatures to shift responsibility for controversial legislation from their own shoulders to the shoulders of the voters. Too many legislative bodies lack the courage to act for those who elected them to represent them.

There is this to be said in favor of the "advisory referendum," which usually prefaces legislative action. It is the most accurate barometer of public opinion yet devised. The public does not agree, however, with the governor of Illinois on the point that important legislation should be submitted to the voters by referendum after adoption by the legislature and approval by the governor; a principle he laid down when he vetoed the state prohibition repeal bill.

Does not the lawmaking body which asks for a referendum confess its incompetence to decide for the people as their representatives? Every legislator is presumed, by the very fact that he presents himself as a candidate, to know the wishes of a majority of the voters in his district.

PARCEL POST RATES

While the interstate commerce commission delays revision of parcel post rates as requested by the postmaster general the postoffice department is losing $41,000 a day. If revision is justified, further delay certainly is unjustified.

Adjustment of rates as asked by the department would increase the rates for short hauls and lower those for long hauls—an adjustment of service charges to actual costs.

National policy has never demanded of the postal service that it be self-supporting, the taxpayers willingly paying the annual deficits out of the general revenue. But if any department of the mail service should pay its own way it is the parcel post, since it is a service largely rendered to business.

There is no justification for discriminatory rates, and if the parcel post rates are unfair to any group of shippers the situation should be rectified immediately. If they are not scientifically adjusted to service performed in relation to its cost, the very purpose of the zone rating system is defeated.

It is the position of the postmaster general that the Senate resolution of last winter, recommending postponement of postal rate changes until Congress can approve them, ties the hands of neither the interstate commerce commission nor his department. He is for immediate revision, not for the kiting of rates for deficit-cutting purposes.

A profession is a trade in which you paid for your good intentions.

Still, if everybody approved a law, there wouldn't be any need of it.

Out To Conquer.

It's a wonder Mary Lou's nerves stood this much. She found herself thinking that a course of Aunt Adelaide's discipline or serenity. But finally Aunt Adelaide lapsed into a gloomy silence, sensitively pondering on the fact that this unknown shut-in might be a little worse off than herself. But she rallied soon and dismissed the unworthy doubt.

The next morning Mary Lou regarded herself in the mirror. Hatted she was, warmly skirted and jacketed, with the new frilly jab she'd bought recently, succumbing to the sudden return to femininity, even with tweeds. And her shoes were shined and her stockings unlaced, her gloves just the right stage of newness worn off—shabbiness not-set-in. Yes, she looked all right! Her cheeks were bright with color and her pert little nose well powdered. She touched the stopper of the perfume bottle Larry had given her last Christmas back of her ears. It was lovely perfume, lasting but not cloying, and she was glad she'd been so penurious with it, using it only on state occasions.

When she reached the New York station she hurried along, looking for Larry so intently that, after all, she didn't see him until she walked directly into his arms. "No way," said he, "for a Perfect Companion to act! Hurry up. We'll snatch a taxi!"

Advice to Girls

By NANCY LEE

DEAR NANCY LEE: I am madly in love with a young fellow. He is civil to me and he always speaks to me, but he is very cold to me and he never acts as if he likes me. I would do anything if I could only win his close friendship.

LONESOME AND BLUE. I did know of a way in which you might win the interest and affection of the young man, I would not give it to you. Do you really think that there are recipes for love. No, my dear, love is not an affair of recipes or rules. It is far too ethereal for that. If the young man cares for you, he will signify it sooner or later. All you can do is to be nice and pleasant and subtly convey your approval of him.

DEAR NANCY LEE: I am a boy in my late teens and like a girl slightly younger than I. I asked her to go with me to a dance. But she refused and said she would be there. She was there but she hardly spoke to me. A mutual friend told me that she had said she loved me. Would it be fitting to ask her again regardless of the last dance?

SANDY: I think that you should wait a good time until you invite the girl to another affair. Such behavior is ridiculous and entirely out of place in this day and age. And, incidentally, worthwhile girls do not confide their love to friends readily.

Finds A Way To Stop Attacks of Fits

Reports are received of an amazing treatment that epileptics state has proved successful in stopping their attacks. R. Lepso, Apt. 62, 123 E. Wright, Milwaukee, Wisc., has been supplying sufferers with this treatment. He now wishes to reach all those who have not been helped and to do so is making the startling offer of a generous treatment free to all sufferers. Anyone afflicted should write for this free treatment at once, giving age.—(Adv.)

Republican Women to Hear Delaware Canal Question

NEW HOPE, June 4.—A meeting of the Bucks County Council of Republican Women scheduled to be held in the New Hope library on June 16th, has been postponed until Thursday, June 25th, at eight p. m., daylight saving time, said session to take place in Worthington's Hall, here.

Senator Clarence J. Buckman will address the meeting on the bill now awaiting the governor's signature, giving to the state the Delaware Canal from Easton to Bristol.

The great interest aroused in this question in the county, and the small seating capacity of the library necessitated the change.

A meeting of the board of directors of the council will precede the meeting.

ESTATE IS FILED

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—The estate of Will S. Gibson, of Bensalem, Bucks County, who died July 10, 1930, leaving an estate appraised at $100,000, including three parcels of real estate in this city, was filed for record yesterday. According to the instrument filed in Bucks County, the entire estate goes to his wife and children.

Will of Slain Author Ignores Relatives

Dr. Sweeney's verdict was that Dr. Bell, who lived alone in the summer time at his flower-bordered home near the banks of the Delaware, four miles from New Hope, was killed by a trapgun he had set in a closet on the first floor against vandals who frequently had trespassed on his property and broken into his home.

"Dr. Bell was a great lover and protector of wild life and flowers," Mr. Shepperd said yesterday, "and so many persons had broken into his home and torn up his flowers and plants that he obtained court permission to install trapguns in and around his property while he was away, at the same time posting warnings of their presence in every conspicuous place.

"When he returned from a visit to

New York last Friday, he evidently was readjusting the shotgun to release the trap when it fell and went off, mortally wounding him."

Bridge and Beauty Keep Mama So Busy Nowadays

And Winifred Black Wonders What Little Mary Ellen Will Do With All She Learns at Housekeeping School—While Mother Is Keeping That Girlish Complexion

By WINIFRED BLACK

Cousin MARY ELLEN'S little Mary Ellen is learning how to keep house.

She gets home from her regular school at three o'clock and at half-past three she goes to housekeeping school.

What does she learn there? She learns to sweep and to dust and to bake and to broil, and how to set the table neatly and how to order meals, so there will never be the same thing to eat two days in succession.

And she learns how to scald out the refrigerator and what to do with spots on the tablecloth, and just how to look when the butcher charges you twice as much as he should for the pot roast just because he thinks you are young and inexperienced, and won't know the difference.

Isn't it wonderful for Cousin Mary Ellen's little Mary Ellen to learn these things?

So much better than waiting until she is married to learn them, isn't it? And giving the poor, new husband the indigestion and the blues, and putting him into debt the very first six months they are married.

Cousin Mary Ellen herself? Why you don't think Cousin Mary Ellen is going to bother with things like that, do you?

Winifred Black

Cousin Mary Ellen is president of a child's study club, and she has to read all sorts of books, and go to all kinds of lectures, and introduce all kinds of celebrities to the club. And she has to play bridge, in her spare time—out to the country club she goes for that.

And Cousin Mary Ellen does the rolling exercises. No, she did them last year, this year she's "twisting" to keep slim.

Cousin Mary Ellen takes excellent care of her skin and her hair, and that means a good deal of time.

She says a woman owes it, not only to herself, but to her husband to keep her girlish complexion.

Cousin Mary Ellen's husband has not kept his schoolboy complexion, or his schoolboy figure, either, for that matter.

To be quite honest about it, Cousin Mary Ellen's husband has no more figure than a golf ball. And does he mourn over it and think he will lose Cousin Mary Ellen if he doesn't "twist," or "roll," or something?

Not he. He eats and drinks, plays golf and works hard, and wonders what in the world Cousin Mary Ellen is talking about—most of the time.

He doesn't even know about Cousin Mary Ellen's wonderful complexion and amazing girlish figure.

She looks just the same to him as she looked the day he married her, nearly eighteen years ago, and she'll look that way when she is sixty—to him.

He's that kind of a man.

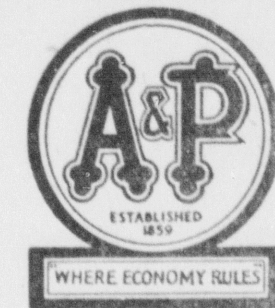

He did look a little wistful when he heard about the home-making school—"Mary Ellen," he said, "couldn't you manage—" but then he gave a helpless sigh and let it go at that.

I wonder what little Mary Ellen will do with all the things she's learning at the house-keeping school?—oh, yes, perhaps she'll be a teacher and teach other little girls who have no real home, and no real mother—how to keep house.

And that will be very nice, won't it?

THE LAST FATEFUL HOURS

With the final hour, 8 o'clock Saturday night, emblazoned on their minds, stirring scenes are being enacted by candidates in The Courier's $10,000 gold election, now swiftly drawing to a close. Aroused to unprecedented opportunities of winning a big cash prize, every passing hour is instilling new energy into ambitious workers. Everywhere they are swarming in eager, anxious quest for subscriptions that will win for them the big votes—and in the end, a big bag of gold. These workers pay no attention to frequent rumors that circulate with hope of damaging effect. Misleading stories have but one object — influencing some candidate to retire for fear of being passed by someone else in the race. Such tales have no foundation whatever. It is obvious that no one can determine the ultimate result of the campaign. Courage and downright hustle are the two main things to observe. Votes are the only things that will win the prizes, and every candidate should — and for that matter, is — taking upon himself or herself to annex just as many votes as possible between now and the close.

The Road Ahead May Be Strewn With Barriers, But These Will be Slight Consequence to Those Who Go Steadily Onward and Out Into the "Land Where Happiness Lies"

At least THREE, and possibly FOUR of the Gold Prizes will be awarded in this district. Following is the alphabetical list of candidates:

Notice To Candidates:

The ballot box in the big campaign (now located at the Bristol Trust Company) has been locked and sealed and will not be open until the final count, when it will be turned over to the judges. The votes as they appear today will remain unchanged from this time until the final count of the judges, except in case of error. The reserve ballots of the candidates, their coupons and the subscriptions that they secure this week up to the final hour may be deposited in the locked box any time up to the closing hour of the election, 8 p. m., Saturday,

June 6th. These votes, however, will not be credited in the published standing until the judges make their final count. Understand this also—under no circumstances can votes or subscriptions be transferred from one candidate to another. This is an absolute rule and will be enforced. Three days remain of the campaign. This period may mean the winning or the losing of one of the biggest prizes for you. LOSE NOT A MOMENT!

No subscription whatever will be accepted through the campaign department this week, but instead, candidates themselves will deposit their final collections in the SEALED BALLOT BOX located at the Bristol Trust Company of this town. And by so doing, no one, not even the campaign manager, or the publisher, can possibly know the voting strength of the respective candidates, which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.

Locked and sealed, the Ballot Box has been placed in the lobby of the bank, where it will remain until the closing hour of the campaign, 8 o'clock, Saturday night, June 6th. When the final hour arrives the campaign will be declared closed. The ballot box will be returned to campaign headquarters, then the judges will break the seals, unlock the box and immediately thereafter, or as soon as votes can be issued on subscriptions contained therein, the last count will begin. The winners will be determined by merely adding the published vote totals, which will appear in Wednesday's issue of The Courier to reserve votes and those contained in the ballot box. There will be no waiting; no complicated count, but simply a matter of adding the vote totals and announcing the winners.

It is calculated that it will take some time, however, to canvass the findings in the box and to determine the winners. The official results will be published Monday in The Courier.

Heretofore out-of-town candidates have had the privilege of mailing their letters containing subscriptions from their home town as late as the closing hour of various "periods." This will not be permitted the last night of the campaign. ALL VOTES AND SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE IN THE SEALED BOX WHEN THE RACE IS CLOSED AT 8 O'CLOCK SHARP!

Out-of-Town Candidates

---Attention:

Out-of-town candidates should, where it is possible to do so, arrange to deposit envelopes in person at the bank, but where this can not be done, letters containing final remittance should be addressed to CAMPAIGN DEPARTMENT, THE BRISTOL COURIER, BRISTOL, PA., and plainly marked FOR THE SEALED BALLOT BOX —NOT TO BE OPENED. Particular care should be taken to post such letters in good time to reach this office before the final hour, and it is advisable that they should be under a special delivery stamp.

IMPORTANT NOTICE:

All subscriptions deposited in the Sealed Box must be accompanied by cash, money order or certified check for the full amount to cover. Personal checks up to $18 are acceptable, provided no two checks are signed by the same party. This is made in all fairness to all candidates and will be strictly adhered to.

LAST PERIOD

Embracing the last week, terminating June 6th, the following number of votes will be issued on subscriptions:

1 Year	3,000
2 Years	10,000
3 Years	20,000
4 Years	40,000
5 Years	80,000
6 Years	160,000

A special ballot good for 100,000 votes will be issued on every "club" of $18 turned in. This is in addition to regular number of votes allowed on every subscription secured up until 8 o'clock Saturday night, June 6th, the last hour of the campaign.

FEDERALS FALL BEFORE HARRIMAN BALL NINE

Last Night's Result
HARRIMAN, 5; Federals, 3
Schedule for Tonight
INDEPENDENTS vs. ST. ANN'S
(By T. M. Juno)

After pitching runless and hitless ball for the first three innings, Arthur Brooks, moundman of the Federals, weakened in the fourth and fifth innings to enable the Harriman Field Club to score five runs and beat the Federals, who scored only three runs. The game was played last night on St. Ann's field.

In all, Brooks allowed the winning club only six hits, four of these coming in the fifth frame when Harriman counted three runs to put the game on ice.

The Federals found the offerings of Kohler for eight hits, one-half of these coming in the initial frame when the losers scored two runs.

The victory gives the Harriman team a half game lead on first place in the league standing, having won five and lost one, while the Independents have won four and lost one.

Two double plays credited to the Harriman team helped Kohler in the pinches. His mates played errorless ball behind him and stopped several Federals' rallies.

Turner Ashby and Harry Morrell led the hitters of the fray with two hits apiece. The only extra base blow of the game was a double by "Eddie" Custer in the first inning.

STEEPLECHASE STARS TO MEET IN BROOKLINE RACE SPECTACLE

BROOKLINE, Mass., June 4.—(INS)—Leading steeplechasers of the country and outstanding amateurs riders of America and England will be seen in action in two meets under the auspices of the Eastern Horse Club at the country club here on June 17 and 20, and at Raceland, the private estate of John R. Macomber at Framingham Centre, on June 22.

The three day meeting which has grown to be the greatest gathering of sportsmen hereabouts provides for ten steeplechases and seven flat races, with purse prizes aggregating $21,000 and $1,600 in plate. Numerous challenge cups will also be distributed during the meets.

The steeplechase course at the country club has been rearranged affording a better view of all jumps from the grand stand. The famous "water jump" has been relocated directly in front of the grand stand. This rearrangement of the course is expected to create a greater enthusiasm than that of years past when many of the "leaps" were situated at difficult positions for the human eye.

Entries in the Challenge Cup race at Brookline have reached a total of 21 horses representing practically every prominent stable in the East. The race is one of about two and one-half miles with amateur riders in the irons. The winner of this race places the stable and rider as one of the best in steeplechase racing in the world.

Twenty-two horses are listed in the starters in the National Hunt cup, a $3,000 prize event, while the Chamblet Memorial with $2,000 in prizes has drawn 24 horses. The grand annual with a purse of $3,000 will have a list of 22 starters.

In the four stakes will be seen a total of 93 horses, one of the largest ever gathered for any amateur meet in the country.

At Framingham, on the "Raceland Course" of Mr. Macomber, one of the largest private race courses in the world, a greater part of which was destroyed by fire last year, will be the scene of the third day of racing events. A new clubhouse and stable is under construction and will outclass that destroyed by the fire.

Five races are included in the Raceland program including the Masters Plate Steeplechase, the Raceland Cup and a steeplechase. The last event carries a purse of $2,000 and the Masters Plate one of $1,000.
